

2015 SAAM Scholarship Awards

Tyler Brush

A full time student at Naugatuck Valley Community College, Tyler still finds the time to work, coach archery, and be a volunteer in his community. "Failure in archery has taught me that perseverance can always lead to success, whether it be to hit a yellow spot on a target or to achieve any other goals in life." Tyler's plan is to pursue a Bachelors' Degree in Engineering at Penn College.

Kaitlyn Chretien

Theater and archery are two passions for Kaitlyn whether it be leading or teaching, influencing her to be confident in herself and everything she does. "Doing archery allows me to set goals for myself, and each time I am able to reach, or even surpass a goal, I feel a sense of accomplishment." Kaitlyn will be attending the University of Massachusetts where she will be studying for a degree in mechanical engineering.

Kolby Hanley

Reliable, respectful, enthusiastic, and dependable are just a few words used to describe Kolby and his dedication to his sport and community. He says: "I do not shoot anymore because I want to win, or for the glory of being a National Champion, I shoot because of the amazing people I meet every time I go to an event." Kolby is an inspiration to those around him and plans to study Chemical Sciences at the University of Vermont.

Timothy McGuire

Throughout high school Timothy has worked and participated in sports (archery being his favorite). "My father was always very encouraging along the way, and his love for hunting and archery was highly influential in fueling my passion for the sport." Timothy will be attending the University of Maine majoring in Wildlife Ecology in hopes of a career related to conservation law enforcement.