

Jacqueline Smith

Jacqueline tried many sports before joining a friend in an archery class. She attributes archery to helping her become more confident in herself and her abilities.

Her new found confidence helped her in the classroom as well as she took more challenging courses in school.

Jacqueline plans to major in Chemistry at Northeastern University in the fall.